SIXTH DISTRICT COMMUNITY JUSTICE ADVISORY NETWORK ACTIVITIES

CSOSA'S CJAN NETWORK

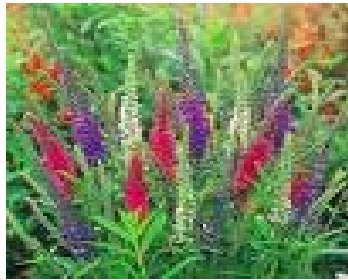

By: Lawrence E. Jordan

Community Justice Advisory Network (CJAN), established in 1999, serves as an advisory committee to CSOSA to identify major public safety concerns within the community, to identify community assets in order to create a shared informal community resource bank, and to collaborate with community residents and stakeholders to develop and facilitate the implementation of strategies for community education, crime prevention, and intervention initiatives.

The Sixth District CJAN's mission is to resolve key public safety concerns/issues resulting in an improved quality of life throughout the Sixth District. The CJAN network is comprised of residents and key stakeholders; and includes the collaborations with Advisory Neighborhood Commissioners (ANC), Citizens Advisory Council (CAC), community groups, civic and tenant associations, schools, faith based institutions, businesses, nonprofit organizations, government agencies and officials, and local law enforcement entities that include the Metropolitan Police Department, the U.S. Attorney Office for the District of Columbia, the D.C. Housing Authority Police Department, and shared cross border initiatives with our neighboring state of Maryland.

CSOSA's Sixth District Community Justice Network has been extremely busy this summer with a multitude of theme driven CJAN Meetings, Agency -Collaborative Forums, Faith Institution Recruitment and Mentoring Training, and Community Service activities, (neighborhood clean-ups and beautification projects).

I have attempted to capture a few of this season's memorable events in this issue of the Sixth District Newsletter for your viewing pleasure, and to hopefully entice those who have not participated in the CJAN network in the past, to make a personal commitment to participate with us in the future.
